The River Improvement. COMMUNICATION FROM THE ENGINEER IN RE-LATION TO THE IMPORTANCE OF DEEPENING THE SHOALS BETWEEN RANDOLPH'S PLAT CITY POINT-TWENTY FEET DEPTH

WANTED. At the last meeting of the Board of Aldertress from Mr. H. D. Whitcomb, engineer of the James-River Improvement, was submitted and read and referred to the Comwes prepared by Mr. Whitcomb at the reof the Committee on the Improvement of James river :

ENGINEER'S OFFICE,) JAMES-RIVER IMPROVEMENT. RICHMOND, VA., January 9, 1880. To the Honorable Board of Aldermen of the City of Richmond :

Gentlemen, -At a meeting of the Combeld January 7, 1880, a resolution was pass-ed requesting the Engineer to address a written communication to the Board of Al-dermen in relation to the importance of deepening the shoals between Randolph's flat and City Point, so that there shall be everywhere in the channel at least 20 feet depth at ordinary high tide.

This improvement is carried on under in-tructions from Colonel Craighill, United States Engineers, and any expenditure on it by the city since 1870 has been made in parmony with his instructions. Under the existing arrangement with the General Government the city is expected to keep clear the channel above Warwick bar, when once excavated, and to do any work in the ites excavates the channel and constructs the works intended to maintain the excavated depth.

other places at high tide was but 104 feet. On this same bar there are now 16 feet 4 inches, and below it not less than 17 feet; and in a short time (possibly in a few days) this depth will be available to the wharves at Rocketts. I do not mean that Vessels may load to that draught, but that s will be the least depth of water everywhere in the channel at average high tide. There are but 16g or 17 feet at high tide on two or three shoals below City Point; and there are other shoals above which have less than 18 feet at low tide—viz., Dutch-Gap cut-off has but 15 feet at low tide; Va-rina shoal about the same; Curl's Neck about 154 feet. Including Dutch Gap, we know of six shoals between Warwick bar and City Point which have less than 18 feet on them at low tide-average low tideunder the influence of westerly winds the tide fafis below this average, usually 1 to 1½ feet; but we have records in this office showing nearly 25 feet due to this cause. On the other hand, easterly winds prevent its' falling to the average. Doubtless every port has a similar experience. Now a vessel cannot be taken to Hampton Roads, or below all these shoals, on one tide; and if loaded to the full depth at Richmond could not pass without delay all the shouls below, since some of them would met at or near low tide. The Ger eral Government has recognized this fact, and is now excavating the channels below City Point to 19 feet and A new lot of Crepe Lisse Tarletan and Footing over at low tide, and by the 30th of June Ruffing and Ruffles. next channels 200 feet wide, and with this depth, will be completed through all the shoals below City Point, and vessels drawing 20 feet may then be brought to City

It is probable that the United States En gineer will continue this increased depth to Varma, if not to a higher point: provided further appropriations are made by Conthe means in hand will only suffice to comcarry on the work near Richmond until May. If a further appropriation is made it will not be available until August, and we will lose three of the best months of the

The cost of making a channel 100 feet wide having at least 20 feet at high fide from City Point to Warwick bar would be about $13,000, and across Warwick bur to that is made in his name upon our commercial in Randolph's flat $10,000 more. This would terests. I shall endeavor to show that there is no an exceed 12 miles; and if Congress makes fostering our commercial interests. further appropriations we may hope that the United States Engineer would go on to widen and to bulld works to maintain the channel, which would cost about $50,000

I think it very important to the city to have the deeper water brought to Warwick bar, if not to Randolph's flats, at the earliest possible time. The former point is 5½ miles latter four miles below the shiplock. Before this work can be done there will be 164 feet in the channel above Warwick to the city wharves. There are already 17 feet below Richmond bar, which is about three miles below the city. When there are 164 rent year) I think i would be safe to load a For safe by all druggless. ves el to 154 feet draught at your wharves and to about 19 feet at Warwick. Lighter-Model. It has no equal. 156 to 16 feet will have to submit to this. But with this increased expense and the cost of towage to Hampion Roads, the cost of carrying freight to the Seaboard would still be less than it would be by rail on any line built or projected.

I think it would be a judicious expenditure of city funds to go on with this work above City Point at once, and, if possible, CLARA" CIGARS have arrived, and are uncon have this 100-foot channel completed by June It will require an appropriation of the arrangement with the General Government and to keep the city machines in pro-

It will be necessary to do most of this work by contract, as most of the city machines will be in use by the United States for price-ilst, until May between Richmond and Warwick an effort. As a matter of course, an encore followed the cavatina, and the débutante responded with a little French song, which was very pleasing. Miss Baraidi sang as her second part in the programme, Milard's fine composition, "When the the second part in the programme, Milard's fine composition, "When the lard's fine composition, "When the Plowing Tide Comes In." Surely if the love, the passion, the sorrow, which woman's heart is capable of feeling, it is this. We have always thought it by far better suited to an atto than to a soprano on of it, and prefers to make it sweet and plaintive to wild and passionate, and, judging by the applause she received at the close, her rendition of it must have accorded with the ideas of the larger portion of the audience. So rapturously was she applauded that she had to appear and repeat the Italian song, which she gave as an encore, and which seemed to us better stuited to her voice than any of those she sang before it.

To sam up, we will state that this young voice than any of those she sang before it.

To sum up, we will state that this young singer has a clear, well-cultivated, and true soprano. After that, we must say that she does not possess the richness, flexibility, or power of expression that we are accustomed and strings with a distoclination to exertion of body or mind; with a distoclination to exertion of and strings, were exquisitely beautiful. Mr. H. F. Laube played De Beriot's "Pizzicato" quite played De Beriot's "1'zziea-to" quite piquantly, and elicited a hearty round of applause. Messrs. Thilow and Reinhardt gave Gottschalk's "Radieuse" as a piano duet. Gottschalk's music, though not classical, is always pleasing and popular; and the orchestra's good, old "Blue Danube," made all not strict church-members wish to throw the chairs out of the windows, and wind up in German fashion with a dreamy "valtzer."

The United of a channel and constructs the channel and constructs case. Several witnesses were examined, and at half-past 2 o'clock the court took a ated depth.

The plan of Colonel Craighill has been to the evidence was further continued. The provide a channel 180 feet wide and 18 feet court adjourned at night, and is expected deep at average high tide.

It will be remembered that as late as 1870—after the great freshet—the depth on Richmond bar and at some other labels and at some of the case. Meredith such to be sugarded at hight, and is expected to be engaged in trying this suit during to day. Considerable interest is manifested in the case. Meredith sues to recover damages alleged to have been sustained to his property by the grading of the streets several years ago. This will be a test case, and if the jury decides in favor of the plaintiff other suits of the same nature will no doubt be instituted. The property referred to is situated on the corner of Eleventh and De catur streets.

The Hustings Court Judgeship .- A few Readjusters met at Heider's hall yesterday afternoon and endesvored to obtain signatures for a petition to be presented to the Legislature requesting that Mr. James M. Gregory, of Chesterfield, be elected judge of the Hustings Court of this city instead of Colonel S. Bassett French, who was nom-inated by the Readjusters' cancus. It is understood that this work will be resumed to-day. So far very few have signed the peti-
